

MUCH LOVED LEO LAID TO ETERNAL REST YESTERDAY

John Lateran, which was chosen by the pope himself, as his last resting place.

Ceremonies Ended.

Thus was Pope Leo consigned to his long rest.

Color and life were given to the whole scene by gendarmes and palatine and noble guards. The last named have never left the remains since the pope died.

Above the cardinals, behind a grating, were the ladies of the aristocracy and the family of the pope.

The diplomatic body was also present, as were many men of the Roman aristocracy, led by Prince Massimo, who claims descent from Quintus Fabius Maximus, general of the Roman empire, the oldest veteran of the papal army, who fought against the Italians in 1870, was also among those who attended the ceremony.

FISHERMAN'S RING GONE.

Someone Robbed the Body of the Late Pope.

New York, July 25.—The Herald's Rome correspondent cables the following:

The ring of the fisherman, which should have been found on the hand of the pope, has disappeared. It is not so much a question of its material as of its intrinsic value, for the ring of the fisherman is used to seal the papal bulls and is the outward sign of authority of the pope.

When the cardinal camerlingo certifies the death of a pope he takes the ring of the fisherman from the chamberlain of his holiness. It is then destroyed in the presence of all the cardinals at the first meeting of the sacred college held after the pope's death.

But when Cardinal Oreglia, the present camerlingo, had certified to the death of Leo XIII, Monsignor Bisletti was a prey to the deepest despair and had to admit that the ring had disappeared. Cardinal Oreglia, who had, as is the custom, brought his declaration of having received the ring from the papal chamberlain, all written out, had to put it back in his pocket.

Mgr. Bisletti can give no indication as to the robber. The theft must have taken place between the death of the pope and the morning of the following day, when Cardinal Oreglia officially certified to his death. During this time a large number of persons entered the death chamber.

The disappearance of the ring has caused a tremendous sensation at the vatican, where it is the sole subject of conversation.

In the meantime, in the certificate of death of Leo XIII, all allusion to receiving the ring has been suppressed.

Friends of Mgr. Bisletti hope that when the seals are removed from the caskets of the pope the ring will be found in one of them, but very little confidence is felt. The ring should never have left the pope's hand, and every one denies having touched it.

ILLINOIS MOB STOPPED BY LEAD

and he drew a revolver, firing into the crowd.

Fell Mortally Wounded.

Henry Getteman, a young butcher, fell mortally wounded and expired within a few minutes. The negro fled but was caught by officers within a block of the scene and hurried to the police station, with the mob in hot pursuit, temporarily diverted from their march to the county jail.

The officers with their prisoner took refuge in the city building, barricading themselves behind the doors of one of the offices. They could not check the mob, however, for it secured a section of the wall and the door, both of which were frail. On account of the overwhelming numbers of the mob it was useless for the officers to resist. The negro was seized and rushed to the spot where he had shot down Getteman. It was the work of an instant to throw a rope around his neck and swing him up to a telephone pole.

Wild Work of Mob.

After his life had been slowly strangled out, he was left hanging while the mob proceeded to the county jail. After going a short distance, however, the mob changed its mind, faced about and returning to the scene of the lynching, cut Mayfield's body down. They rushed it to the principal square, built a bonfire and, backing the body to pieces with knives, pitched it in the midst of the flames. For a while they watched it burn and then, coming to a realization of their first mission, they turned back and once more resumed their march to the county jail.

Sheriff Was Prepared.

The sheriff and his deputies had expected an attack and made a strong stand. The sheriff refused the demands for Wilson and threatened to shoot if the mob committed an overt act. The mob, now worked up to an intense state of excitement, became frenzied in its determination to reach Wilson, and in its fury threatened to lynch the sheriff, his deputies and a negro turnkey. Finally they charged the jail and the sheriff and his deputies fired, wounding three members of the mob. One fatally. The mob, being repulsed, sent to a neighboring building camp for dynamite and threatened to again attack the jail.

Wilson's Crime.

Wilson, it is charged, went to the Burgess farmhouse with Mrs. Burgess was alone and begged food. What was getting him something to eat he seized her. He fled, leaving her half dead. She managed to crawl to a neighboring farmhouse and gave the alarm.

A posse of officers started in pursuit of the negro, and when Wilson was captured he was hurried to the county jail to prevent lynching. There the negro confessed.

Three other negroes have been attacked by members of the mob and severely beaten.

During the height of the excitement a woman mounted a drygoods box in the street and shouted:

"Kill the sheriff! He has shot more than one white man on account of a negro."

Sent For Dynamite.

After the fusillade the mob recoiled for a few minutes, but immediate preparations were made for another attack. A message was sent to a mining camp at Westfield, Ill., to bring over dynamite to blow up the jail, and the mob leaders were notified that two miners had started for the explosive. They were heavily armed and riding swift horses.

Company K, a colored troop, has its headquarters here, and the officials have prepared to call it out. Leaders of the mob declare they will try to kill the entire company if it comes out.

On the edges of the square at midnight two unknown negroes lay in the gutter. They were beaten into insensibility with clubs in the hands of white citizens.

Wild With Excitement.

Nearly 200 men and women from Alvin, where the assault on Mrs. Burgess was committed, are active leaders of the mob. The mob at midnight has been increased to several thousand, the entire square in front of the jail being packed with shouting men and women.

While waiting for the miners who were expected to bring the dynamite from Westfield, the mob marched up and down in front of the jail, stoning it and firing shots at random.

About half hour after the message for the dynamite was sent a telephone message came from Hinrod, a town half way between Westfield and Westville, that one of the miners, a Hungarian, had been stopped there by citizens who were hurriedly sent out from Danville to intercept him.

Explosives Captured.

They took from him a large quantity of dynamite which he was carrying. The miners with dynamite is believed to be on the way here.

About half of Company K, the colored organization, has assembled at the armory, and is barricaded there in fear of an attack from the mob.

The entire police force, numbering about twenty, has been called out, and with the twelve deputy sheriffs Sheriff Whitlock forms the garrison at the jail. Wilson has just been interviewed in the jail by a correspondent. He said he was the man who visited Mrs. Burgess farm, and he admitted that he had attacked Mrs. Burgess, but denied that he had criminally assaulted her. After the negro had made these statements, Sheriff Whitlock went to the outside of the jail and pleaded with the mob to disperse. His brief address was interrupted by shouts from the mob, members of which loudly declared their determination to have the negro's life sooner or later.

I have discovered the marvelous secret of perpetual life and vigor in men. To me it has been given to bring to the fallen, weary, worn-out brother the knowledge of this priceless boon, and even to the remotest ends of the earth. I send my message of love and peace and hope and help. Unbelievers may scoff and cry "rags," but I heed them not. My work has just begun and I am saving men. The secret of this mighty healing power, this vital life spark, this marvelous tonic fluid, is known to me alone. It is mine to give to whom I will and my work, as before me. Doubt not, I ask no trust to believe me, but I give to every weak man free this priceless boon and I restore him instantly to the strength and powerful vigor of youth. With this marvelous, mysterious compound, which I have discovered only after a lifetime devoted to search through all the realms of science, and the archives of the ancients, it is possible for every weak man to have for himself the glorious, happy life of the patriarchs of Bible times. With this mysterious compound no weak man will ever again be troubled with impotency, vital losses, nightly emissions, spermatorrhea, varicoles, premature, defective power or lack of vital energy.

Send me no money. It is my duty, guided by an unseen hand—it is my mission on earth—my life work—to lift up the fallen, heal the weak and cure the maimed or undeveloped. And to every man who has lost his vital power or finds himself weak, I send my message of love and peace and health. I can save him and I will save him and restore him to many the sparkling vitality of youth. My private address is Dr. C. Sargent Ferris, 125 Strawn Building, Cleveland, O., and I urge every weak man to come to me, for I will give him undying strength, the supreme joy and happiness of perfect manhood. My wondrous discovery has started the world by its miraculous effects, yet I seek not fame nor glory. It satisfies me if I may be the humble instrument of Nature's greatest power in bringing all men into the enjoyment of their true manhood, and I feel it free. In the time allotted to me here on earth I shall do all that my power lies to give my fellow men the benefit of this great secret, and my reward shall be in the knowledge that I have done unto others as I would that others should do unto me.

CHRONIC SORES

Signs of Polluted Blood.

There is nothing so repulsive looking and disgusting as an old sore. You worry over it till the brain grows weary and work with it until the patience is exhausted, and the very sight of the old festering, sickly looking place makes you irritable, despondent and desperate.

A chronic sore is the very best evidence that your blood is in an unhealthy and impoverished condition, that your constitution is breaking down under the effects of some serious disorder. The taking of strong medicines, like mercury or potash, will sometimes so pollute and vitiate the blood and impair the general system that the merest scratch or bruise results in obstinate non-healing sores of the most offensive character.

Often an inherited taint breaks out in frightful eating sores upon the limbs or face in old age or middle life. Whenever a sore refuses to heal the blood is always at fault, and, while antiseptic washes, salves, soaps and powders can do much to keep down the inflammation and cleanse the sore, it will never heal permanently till the blood itself has been purified and the deadly germs and poisons destroyed, and with S. S. S. this can be accomplished—the polluted blood is purified and invigorated, and when rich, pure blood is again circulating freely throughout the body the flesh around the old sore begins to take on a natural color, the discharge of matter ceases and the place heals over.

S. S. S. is both a blood purifier and tonic that puts your blood in order and at the same time tones up the system and builds up the general health. If you have a chronic sore write us. No charge for medical advice.
